

“ I recently opened my own company ,Walrath Recruiting,Inc., and I immediately contacted Success Magazine. They worked with me to develop my public relations and plans to announce my company through an article and writers program in the magazine and online. The response has been tremendous-I have had so many new clients share with me how much they loved my articles and how I have been promoted to the elite of Success. I would recommend Success Magazine and Success Public Relations Inc. to all my clients and especially to those who are in need of positive PR and guidance on how to capture their market share.”
